The Honorable William Webster
Director of Central Intelligence
Central Intelligence Agency
Washington, D.C. 20505

February 21, 1988

Dear Mr. Webster,

As a former member of the National Security Council staff in the Reagan Administration, I have seen first-hand the development of policy and would like to share some of this experience with my students. Therefore, I am bringing my class of approximately 80 students to Washington, D.C. on March 3-4, 1988. The purpose of this visit is so that they may meet with several governmental officials and gain a better understanding of the intricacies of the decision-making process.

In 1978, the CIA gave us a briefing at Headquarters, and in 1984, we met with analysts from the Agency at State. We would be grateful if someone on your staff could meet with us while we are in town. Also, we would appreciate it if one of your staff members could drop by an informal reception at our hotel to discuss prospects for job opportunities for students.

In the event that we are able to visit the Agency at Headquarters, we would be delighted if you would drop by the briefing.

The students are interested in two basic foreign policy areas: American foreign policy towards the Middle East, and American policy towards ballistic missile defense and strategic arms reduction.

The opportunity to see you in Washington is an occasion to which we look forward.

With warm regards

Raymond Tanter
Professor
